

Atkinson Center for a Sustainable Future Topical Lunch

Title: Building Environmental Studies at Cornell.

Host: Dr. Aaron Sachs, Professor, History and American Studies

Date: Monday April 9, 2018 12:00 – 1:00pm 300 Rice Hall

This topical lunch is meant to be a broad-ranging discussion about the state of environmental studies at Cornell and new opportunities for collaboration among faculty. The two most important topics to be covered are:

- 1) The new cross-college program in Environment and Sustainability. We are at a stage where it would be useful to discuss concrete collaborations on interdisciplinary, team-taught courses.
- 2) The chance to make new senior hires: there is money earmarked for this, under the Provost's Sustainability Initiative. Now the onus is on us to propose candidates who could contribute across multiple departments.

Please check out this link: <http://provost.cornell.edu/academic-initiatives/radical-collaboration/sustainability/>